

DRAMA NEW SOUTH WALES

Podcast Show notes

Social Justice and the Drama Classroom

This episode includes a discussion on what social justice looks like in the Drama classroom. Sonia interviews Dr Kelly Freedbody, Dr Carol Carter and Andrew Byrne in regards to what social justice is and how it can be explored in the classroom.

References and links to documents:

- Nancy Fraser's book 'Redistribution or Recognition? A political, philosophical exchange' <https://www.versobooks.com/books/179-redistribution-or-recognition>
- Theatre for Good Intentions - Challenges and hopes for Theatre and social change by Danielle Snyder-Young <https://www.palgrave.com/gp/book/9781137293022#:~:text=Theatre%20of%20Good%20Intentions%20examines,can%20and%20can't%20do.&text=Dani%20Snyder%2DYoung%20is%20Assistant,at%20Illinois%20Wesleyan%20University%2C%20USA.>
- The work of Professor Jonathan Neelands <https://www.wbs.ac.uk/about/person/jonathan-neelands/>
- Teaching First Nations Content and Concepts in the Drama Classroom - Advice for teachers in Victorian Schools <https://ilbijerri.com.au/wp-content/uploads/2020/06/Teaching-First-Nations-Content-and-Concepts.pdf>
- Ilbijerri Theatre Company - <https://ilbijerri.com.au/>
- The Child in Focus - Learning and Teaching in Early Childhood Education Dr Estelle Irving and Dr Carol Carter <https://www.oup.com.au/books/higher-education/education/9780190304546-the-child-in-focus-ebook>
- Understanding Prejudice and Education - the challenge for future generations by Conrad Hughes <https://www.routledge.com/Understanding-Prejudice-and-Education-The-challenge-for-future-generations/Hughes/p/book/9781138928602>
- Pedagogy, Empathy and Praxis - Using Theatrical Traditions to Teach by Alison Grove O'Grady <https://www.palgrave.com/gp/book/9783030395254>